[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 15, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. CHANDLER, from Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to extend the laws of the United States relating to customs, navigation and commerce over Alaska and to establish a collection district therein, and for other purposes, which was amended and passed.

Mr. SHERMAN, from Committee on Finance, reported a joint resolution to extend the 14th section of the act approved July 28, 1866, entitled an act for the collection of direct tax in late insurrectionary States, until January 1, 1869. Passed.

Mr. MORRILL, Me., from Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the registration or enrollment of foreign built vessels

Mr. THAYER called up the bill for the relief of loyal Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, but Mr. HENDERSON asked that it lay over for the purpose of making some inquiry.

Mr. CONNESS moved to lay aside unfinished business and take up the bill for the protection of American citizens abroad, saying both Republicans and Democrats were pledged to the protection of naturalized American citizens.

Mr. MORRILL moved the regular business should be attended to, and Mr. CONNESS' motion was rejected—21 to 23.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. Opposition was made by Mr. Howe and others to several of the amendments making appropriations for the removal of Indians to new reservations under the treaty, which, however, were agreed to.

At 4.30 the Senate went into Executive session and in a few minutes took a recess.

Mr. RAMSEY, from the Committee on Postoffices, reported a bill to authorize the construction of bridges across the Ohio river. It provides that the parties authorized by State laws to construct such bridges must submit to the Secretary of War for approval complete designs and maps exhibiting the full particulars of the undertaking, and prescribes in detail the manner in which they shall be constructed. The span across the main low water channel must not be of less elevation than ninety feet above low water mark or forty feet above extreme high water mark. The length of the main span and of other spans is left to be subsequently determined.

Mr. SHERMAN, from Committee on Finance, reported a substitute for the bill passed by the House May 28th, relative to other places than that the original port of transportation of merchandize in bond to importation, which substitute provided that from and after September 1, 1868, merchandize other than wine, distilled spirits, perishable or explosive articles and articles [illegible] appear from the invoices and shipping documents to be destined for either of the por a of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Portland, Me., Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans, may be entered for warehouse and immediate transportation and forwarded at the risk of owner to its place of destination. The bond required shall be for double the invoice value of merchandise, with not less than two sureties, and the merchandise so entered for transportation shall be delivered and transported by companies regularly incorporated as common cariers and designated for this purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury, and none other. Such companies are to be responsible to the United States for the safe delivery of the goods and to be placed under bonds with such conditions as the Treasury Department may prescribe. If possible no route shall be designated which, by reason of change of gauge or other cause, involves a transhipment of merchandise, which must be carried under lock and seal and be inspected at proper points by custom officers. It must also be transferred directly from importing vessels to cars, vessels or vehicles in which it is to be transported, otherwise it will be subject to seizure as unclaimed property and deposited in the public store. The bill contemplates the appointment of appraisers and other officers at designated points to carry into effect its provisions. It also repeals all act which authorize an abatement or return of duties on account of damage occurring to merchandize during the voyage of importation, or on account of actual injury, loss or destruction, in whole or in part, by fire, or other cause, after its reception within the limits of the United States.

Mr. MORGAN, from Committee on Commerce, reported a joint resolution providing that there shall not be carried on any vessel on a voyage a greater number of passengers than in the following proportions: On the second deck, not being an open deck, one passenger for every one hundred and twenty cubic feet of clear space, and on the main and poop deck one passenger for every one hundred cubic feet of clear space contained therein, the space in each case to be ascertained in the manner provided by law for the measurement of tonnage. A penalty is provided of $50 for every adult carried in excess of the number allowable by this bill, and if the excess is more than twenty-five per cent. of such allowable number, the owner or agent shall be subject to a fine not exceeding $2,000 and imprisonment not exceeding six months, and the master, on conviction, shall be imprisoned from six months to a year. The bill also requires the Committee on Commerce of the two Houses to prepare a bill for the better protection of emigrants on shipboard.

Evening Session.—Mr. HENDRICKS entered a motion to recall the bill recently passed restoring to political rights certain persons in the Southern States. He had understood that it removes the disabilities of Radical members of the Georgia Legislature, but not of their opponents in the same body. He condemned such discriminating legislation.

Mr. STEWART called up the bill authorizing the purchase of certain public lands in Alabama, which passed. It makes lands in certain counties named subject to sale as other public lands. They are now being restricted to actual settlement under the homestead laws.

Mr. RAMSEY called up the House bill to further amend the postal laws.

The Committee on Postoffices reported a number of amendments, chiefly in regard to the details of the money order system, which were agreed to and the bill passed. One of the amendments authorizes the appointment of a Superintendent of Foreign Mails, at a salary of $3,000.

The Indian Appropriation bill was again taken up.

After much discussion the Committee's amendments were agreed to, and the bill passed and goes to the House.

Mr. CONNESS endeavored to have the bill for the protection of the rights of American citizens abroad made the special order for to-morrow, but there was no quorum and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Missouri contested election case was taken up.

Mr. BENJAMIN made an argument against the loyalty of the contestant, Switzler, who followed in his own behalf, denying he was ever disloyal, and throwing back the charge upon his opponent.

Mr. BUTLER made a report from the Conference Committee on the invalid pension appropriation bill, the point of disagreement having been as to the disposition of the naval pension fund. The report was agreed to.

Mr. PERHAM, from the Committee of Conference on nine pension bills, made a report. Agreed to.

Mr. CHANLER presented a petition of officers of the army for the passage of the bill to equalize the pay of officers, and establish the pay of enlisted soldiers. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The Missouri election case was resumed, and Mr. Anderson, the sitting member, replied to the speech of the contestant.

On motion of Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, the report was recommitted, with instructions to inquire into both claimants—94 to 61.

Mr. SCHENCK, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported back the Senate funding bill with thirteen amendments and asked that the bill and amendments be printed and be made the special order for to-morrow, immediately after the reading of the journal.

The amendments were read.

The first limits the denomination of bonds to be issued to fifty dollar bonds.

The second strikes out the description of bonds—twenty, thirty and forty years, &c., —and makes all bonds forty years, bearing coin interest at 3 67-100 per cent. per annum.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh are verbal changes rendered necessary by the second.

The eighth strikes out the third section, and substitutes for it the following: "That the holder of any lawful money of the United States to the amount of fifty dollars, or any multiple of fifty dollars, may convert the same into bonds for an equal amount authorized by the first section of this act, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; provided that such conversion shall not be allowed at any time when the amount of United States notes outstanding is reduced to $30,000,000, and any holder of any of the bonds provided for in the first section of this act may present the same to the Treasurer of the United States and demand lawful money of the United States for the principal and accrued interest thereon, and the Treasurer shall redeem the same in lawful money of the United States, unless the United States notes then outstanding shall amount to $400,000,000, and such bonds shall be so redeemable after the United States have resumed the payment of coin for their notes."

Amendments tenth and eleventh were verbal.

The twelfth proposes the following as a new section, "That hereafter the tax on any income arising from the bonds, other than interest-bearing securities of the United States, payable to any person, State, municipality, body politic or corporate company, or society whether corporate or not corporate, out of the Treasury of the United States, shall be assessed and collected by the Treasurer or disbursing officers of the United States charged with paying any interest upon the debt of the United States in the same currency in which said interest is paid, and such collection shall be made by deduction of the amount of tax from the coupons or interest due at the time of such payment."

The thirteenth is simply to the title.

Mr. RANDALL made the point of order that as the second section made the appropriation it must have its consideration in Committee of the Whole.

The SPEAKER sustained the point.

Mr. SCHENCK moved that the bill and amendments be printed and recommitted, giving notice that he should report it back to-morrow morning after the reading of the journal, and ask immediate action.

Mr. STEVENS moved to lay the bill on the table.

The SPEAKER ruled the motion out of order; that would be a consideration of the bill, while under the rules it must first be considered in Committee of the Whole.

The bill and amendments were ordered printed and recommitted, together with amendments proposed Messrs. Schenck Niblack and Boutwell.

Mr. BOUTWELL made a report from the Conference Committee on the bill to authorize the temporary supplying of vacancies in Executive Departments, which, after discussion, was rejected—36 to 97.

Mr. MOORHEAD moved the Evening Session to-night be to consider the tariff bill.

Mr. WILSON, Iowa, moved an adjournment, which would leave the Evening Session for general debate.

Mr. MOORHEAD demanded the yeas and nays on the motion to adjourn—vote 66 to 64.

The House took a recess until 7.30 for general debate.

Evening Session—Thermometer in Chamber 93.

The SPEAKER appointed Messrs. Pomeroy, Lawrence and Eldridge, a second Conference Committee on the bill providing for vacancies in the Executive Departments.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Cullom in the Chair, for general debate.

Mr. STONE addressed the Committee in continuation of his speech of last night and spoke in defence of F. P. Blair's letter, arguing it was merely an appeal to the conservative sentiment of the country.

Mr. HILL made a speech on the political topics of the day.

Mr. MAYNARD spoke in defence of the Republican party and eulogized its standard bearers.

Mr. STEVENS, Pennsylvania, was the next speaker, prefacing his remarks with a resolution he intended to offer in the House instructing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to inquire into the expediency of providing funds to purchase a convenient naval station and depot among the West India Islands, if same can be had at a reasonable prices, and requiring negotiations for the same to be initiated.

Mr. LOGAN spoke in denunciation of the Democratic platform and criticised the Convention which made it. He also eulogized Grant, Colfax and the Republican party.

Mr. VAN HORN, of New York, addressed the Committee in advocacy of the Republican party and its policy.

The Committee then rose and the House adjonrned.

West Virginia Democratic Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WHEELING, July 16.—The Democratic State Convention assembled at Grafton, West Virginia, to-day. Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton and Senator Thurman, of Ohio, were present and addressed the Convention at length. Both gentlemen were most enthusiastically received. The attendence was large. A wigwam, capable of seating five thousand persons, was found too contracted to accommodate the crowd. J. N. Camden, Esq., of Parke county, was nominated for Governor upon the first ballot. Resolutions endorsing the nominees and platform of the New York Convention and demanding the repeal of the registry law in force in this State, were unanimously and enthusiastically adopted.

Missouri Republican State Convention.

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Republican State Convention held to-day at Jefferson City:

The first appro[illegible] the platform of the National Republican [illegible]vention and pledges earnest and hearty supp[illegible] to Grant and Colfax.

The second thanks the party called Democratic for unmasking to the country its real designs by the nomination of men whose political creed finds its due interpretation in declarations which publicly threaten a new revolution and propose to trample into the dust the laws duly enacted to dispose of State governments constitutionally established, and to compel the Senate to submit to such an interpretation of the Constitution as a Dictator may give. We appeal to all good citizens of either party, who desire peace and order and a government of law, to join in putting down this new cause of rebellion and crushing the madmen who threaten to bring upon us another cruel war.

The third particularly endorses the third, fourth, fifth and sixth articles of the National platform, and re-affirms that the payment of the National debt is part of the National honor, and good faith and justice are as obligatory upon Governments as upon men, and that the spirit of the contract is more of its life even than its letter, and that we spurn and utterly condemn the evasion of our National obligations, as proposed by the Democratic Convention, as ruinous to the credit and material interests of the nation.

Tee fourth declares that disfranchisement based upon difference of color only is neither just nor republican, unequiocally favors the adoption of the Constitutional amendment now pending that impartial suffrage may be established in Missouri, and that an unjust discrimination, born of slavery, the cause of the rebellion, may forever be removed from the laws of the State.

The fifth repeats the resolution of the Soldiers' Convention in regard to disfranchisement of rebels and the restoration of political privileges to them at the earliest moment consistent with State and national safety.

The sixth resolves that the payment of seventeen millions of State debt left from former Democratic administrations, the appreciation of bonds of the State from thirty-three cents in 1863, when they bore thirty-six per cent. overdue interest, to ninety-one cents, without overdue interest in 1868, the enlargement of the school fund, and restoration of the credit of the State, accomplished not only without increase but with a large reduction of taxation, give proof of the ability of the Radical party to so manage the finances of the State as to secure its prosperity and guard its honor, and at the same time relieve tax-payers of all unnecessary burdens.

The seventh sternly insists upon the most economical administration of the State Government, and earnestly recommends the greatest care and circumspection on the part of their friends in their nominations for public offices of men of established character and honesty.

The Convention nominated Colonel McClung, present Representative in Congress from the Fifth District, for Governor, on the first ballot. E. O. Stannard, a prominent miller and flour merchant of St. Louis, was unanimously nominated for Lieutenant Governor on the second ballot. John Rodman, present incumbent, was nominated by acclamation for Secretary of State, Q. Dallmeyer for Treasurer, and Gen. Dan. Draper for Auditor.

There was a great verbal conflict in the Senate over the case of Evarts, confirmed as Attorney General, on Wednesday. Mr. Henderson denounced Gen. Butler in very harsh terms, and praised Johnson, Evarts and others very highly, and asked the Senate to take action to punish Butler and others who had maligned him.

It is now stated that Collector Smythe is more hopeful of getting confirmed as Minister to Austria, since the success of Evarts. Symthe says he is sure of thirty votes. Morgan favors him, but Conkling opposes his confirmation.

The new tax bill has been sent to the President. It makes a great change in the Internal Revenue law. Special agents, informers, swellers and "mokes" are cut off, and will no longer fleece the people and rob the Government. It authorizes twenty-five supervisors and the same number of temporary detectives for the whole United States.

Mr. Trumbull having killed the bill allowing colored men to be members of the Grand Jury, has induced the counsel for Surratt to ask that the indictment of 1866 be quashed. The Court will decide upon the propriety of this next week.

The work on the Pacific Railroad is progressing rapidly. Salt Lake City will be reached about the first of November, and trains will be run regularly to that point twice a week.

The veto of the Electoral College bill is to be sent in before Saturday. It has been withheld to allow Mr. Evarts to look at it, they say.

The Mississippi Radical delegation, who desire the vote of certain counties to be thrown out, will not succeed in their plans. The official vote, forwarded by Gen. Gillem, has been received and indicates that Mississippi has rejected the Congressional reconstruction plan by a decided majority. Five whole counties would have to be thrown out to alter the result.

The Senate Military Committee will oppose the attempt to pass anything in the nature of the House bill for the reduction of the army in its present shape. A part of them believe that the army is being reduced as fast as the state of the country will admit, and that the General in Chief is now vested with all the necessary powers. Others oppose the attempt to pass a systematic measure of consolidation this session.

The President has given assurances to the Democratic members that he will not delay his veto message, and it looks as though the session would not last beyond Monday or Tuesday.

Governor Morton leaves for his home in Indiana to-day, as his health suffers too much to admit his remaining longer.

The Senate passed the bill extending the customs, commercial and navigation laws over Alaska, and establishing a collection district there.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK.

BY HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD.

Ah, happy day, refuse to go!
Hang in the heavens forever so!
Forever in mid afternoon,
Ah, happy day of happy June!
Pour out thy sunshine on the hill,
The piny wood with perfume fill,
And breathe across the sighing sea
Land scented breezes that shall be
Sweet as the gardens that they pass,
Where children tumble in the grass!

Ah, happy day, refuse to go!
Hang in the heavens forever so!
And long not for the blushing rest
In the soft bosom of the West,
But bid gray evening get her back
With all the stars upon her track!
Forget the dark, forget the dew,
The mystery of the midnight blue,
And only spread thy wide, warm wings,
While Summer her enchantment flings!

Ah, happy day, refuse to go!
Hang in the heavens forever so!
Forever let thy tender mist
Lie, like dissolving amethist,
Deep in the distant dales, and shed
Thy mellow glory overhead!
Yet wilt thou wander—call the thrush,
And have the wilds and waters hush
To hear the passion-broken tune,
Ah, happy day of happy June!

—Greeley said once that every man who smoked or chewed tobacco was a hog. We think Brick Pomeroy must have chewed once, and now he is going to start a new paper in New York. Henry Clay Dean is to write for it, and must once have used tobacco too.

—The third annual tobacco fair of Cincinnati was held in Pike's music hall on Tuesday, and was remarkable for the fine display of superior grades of tobacco. $3 per pound was paid for first class, first premium tobacco. Various addresses and speeches with a grand champagne dinner, wound up the affair.

—Planchette, the mystery, is exciting everybody now as much as the hot weather will permit. It is understood to have behaved in a very singular way some weeks ago. When asked "Will Chase ever be President," it answered "Te he!" This may be some very abstruse answer, and we call the attention of scientific men to it.

—A paper giving an account of Toulouse, France, says: "It is a large town, containing sixty thousand inhabitants, built entirely of brick." This is only equaled by a well known description of Albany: "Albany is a town of eight thousand houses and twenty-five thousand inhabitants, with most of their gable ends to the street."

—It is in these hot days that the advantages of Pittsburgh dirt are shown. In beautiful Cleveland for instaace, the houses are so bright and clean as to make a glare, unknown to the neighborhood of our dingy buildings, and the lake breezes stir up a dust which adds greatly to the discomfort of the people, and which is unknown in our sandless streets.

—Seven girls went in to bathe in the East river at New York. Four of them got beyond their depth and were being drowned, when the screams of the survivors attracted a young hero only fourteen years old, who, by repeated divings, rescued three of them, but the fourth was drowned. The drowned girl was named Powers, and the boy, who was a perfect humane society in himself, is named Frank Beck.

—One of the poets of antiquity wrote:

"Little Jack Horner sat in the corner
Eating his Christmas pie,
He put in his thumb and pulled out a plum,
O what a great boy am I!"

This was prophetic; in Jack we see the Democratic party, in the pie the Convention; the thumb is doubtfully inserted, long and anxious is the search, and doubtful are the results, but finally, out comes Seymour, and Democracy, all ready, immediately begins to sing, "O, what a great boy am I! to find this plum in such a mass of dough."

American Girls of the Period in Paris.

American women who go to Paris ought to be very circumspect in their behavior. But if the following statement, made in a letter to a Berlin paper by Sigismond Kolisch, is true, some of them don't do any thing of the kind:

There has been considerable talk for several days past, about a flirtation, or something worse, going on between a distinguished personage (the Emperor) and a young American girl. Incredible as it may seem, some of these young Americaines are hankering after the questionable honor of becoming the mistresses of the aforementioned personage. The truth is, the tone of American society in Paris just now is abominable, and the women behave even worse than the men. The latter will shrink from no humiliations in order to gain access to one of the leading clubs, or to obtain invitations to fashionable soirees, but the women almost outstrip the priestesses of the demi monde in acts of impropriety and defiance of public opinion. When you, nowadays, see at Bois de Bologne a shockingly decollette fair one, you may be sure that she is either from the Rue Breda, or an Americaine. "C'est une Americaine" is now uttered with a shrug by the representatives of good society, and with a sneer which cannot but hurt to the quick all well-wishers to the American Republic.

PAPER HATS.—The last novelty is paper hats, made in exact imitation of fine braided straw hats. The process is so simple that the great wonder is that it has never been thought of before. The pulp is mixed in a large vat, heated by steam and thoroughly mangled by circular teeth. It is then drawn off by a spiggot into a form which has a fine wire sieve to receive the pulp and allow the water to escape. After the water is run through, the wire sieve form is placed upon a block, where, after drying, it is placed under a press and subjected to a pressure of 2,400 pounds to the square inch, coming out a perfect hat in appearance, lightness, durability and waterproof.

Sale of 1,000 bbls spot at 14½; 0 do at 14½; 1,000 for July or August sel- rs option, to be delivered on cars at Ve- ngo City, at $5,50 per bbl. At the close, ere was no spot oil offering below 15, hile it was thought that 14¾ might have en realized. We do not believe that in e history of the trade, dating back some n or twelve years, has the market been extremely sensitive, and easily agitated, during the past sixty days; an advance decline of a dollar per bbl, has occured ithin forty-eight hours, and it has been frequent of late, that it now creates little no suprise.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil as active and very much excited to-day, d with large sales, reaching twelve ousand bbls, prices have still further ad- anced. RIVER NEWS.

—A colored deck hand, named Charles Carter, was drowned off the Telegraph, last Sunday, at Catlettsburg. He was a new hand on the boat, having shipped in this city only a week ago.

—Omaha dispatches of the 12th, state that the river has fallen two inches since yesterday. Helena, Montana, dispatches of the 13th, say the Columbia left Benton, for St. Louis, on the 6th; the Silver Lake arrived there on the 7th.

—Four men have been arrested in New Orleans and held to bail for carrying on a distillery on board a ship. They would take in a cargo of material, make a short cruise, during which the still was operated, and then return with the spirits.

—The snag-boat Derussey, at last accounts, was six miles below the mouth of the Osage, in the Missouri river, laboring hard with snags. During the week ending July 11, she pulled out 42 snags, one of them 83 feet long, and 31 feet in circumference at the butt, and 14 at the top. Her crew had also felled 150 trees on the bank of the river.

—Since 1828, the Chattahoochie river, Georgia, has been navigated by 134 steamboats. Of these, 8—half of which are tied up—are now upon it. Of the remainder, during these forty years, 45 have been worn out, 6 blown up accidentally, and 2 by the Federals, 3 blown away in a gale, 2 lost by high water, 9 burned and 29 sunk—in all 96 casualties—and 30 have left the river.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: Several months since, it will be remembered the Louisville mail steamer United States and the Silver Spray, Capt. Fenton, collided between here and Louisville. The parties agreed to leave the matter to arbitrators, Capt. Pearce selecting Capt. Dan. Collier, and Capt. Fenton selecting Capt. Geo. W. Neave, who decided the officers of the United States were in the wrong. This a much easier way of settling this matter than a prolonged law suit.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of Tuesday says: Yesterday a St. Paul steamer was crowded with passengers. A large amount of freight is being received by boats for Southern ports.....The Barge Company, yesterday, received several hundred tuns for New Orleans. Several other departures were heavily ladened.....There is a rumored competition between two St. Paul packet lines against commerce again, owing to the reduction by one of them to the terms agreed upon four weeks ago..... The Silver Cloud and Camella are the boats for river to-day. The S. H. Long has been snagging in the Arkansas, and is now bound for Cairo; has got a new crew. The old crew numbered twenty-nine, of whom twenty-one are down with fevers. One died on the way up.

—A late New Orleans paper says: We were astonished yesterday morning to see the stars and bars—the flag of the late S. C., (so called,) floating proudly from the jack staff of one of our Red River packets. We must confess that the sight of it caused the blood to course quickly through our veins, as it carried us back to scenes far different from those now presented to our gaze. Its display, however, was purely an accident, and as soon as the mistake was discovered it was lowered from the mast head, furled, hid from our sight, and the banner of the United States run up in its stead. A bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday, (which has not yet passed) compelling steamboats and railoads to carry passengers without regard to race, color or previous condition, under penalty of a fine of $500 or one year's imprisonment.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, or relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. DR. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am to-day in vigorous health, and totally FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in a while, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves Icannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Meyers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

Deafness, Hard Hearing, Discharges from the Ear, Polypus of the Ear, Catarrh. Ozena, Blind Eyes, Inflamed Eyes, and every species of Sore Eyes and Ears successfully Treated by Dr. Keyser, No. 140 Penn Street.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we allnded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher has been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery. We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated. CHRISTIAN FISHER,
SIMON P. FISHER, (brother,)
ANNIE BRADLEY, Taylor Avenue, Allegheny;
EUGENE McCASKEY,
LOUISA FISHER, (her niece.)

September 18th, 1867.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of GEORGE FORD, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondence, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by DR. KEYSER was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1868.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

Statement of John G. Wigham, of Turtle Creek, Allegheny county:

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough, and fell away in strength and flesh, and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood, and afterwards to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DR. KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under DR. KEYSER'S medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my cheat, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of DR. KEYSER'S treatment and medicines.

"Let us Have Peace".—Grant.
"Let us Have War"—Blair.

"Seymour and Blair will give us all the Confederacy fought for."—Ex-rebel Gov. Vance's speech at the Democratic ratification meeting in Richmond.

THE Democrats profess great indignation at the cost of the War and Navy Departments from 1861 to the closing out of the rebellion. They are much more indignant that people were found to furnish the money needful to equip and pay the forces that conquered the Rebellion.

THE new Attorney General, Mr. EVARTS, will meet his first official responsibility, of a grave nature, in advising the President concerning the latter's intended veto of the Electoral College bill. There are people who are curious to know how Mr. EVARTS will make complaisant advice square with his pronounced Republican opinions.

THE Chicago Evening Post says that since the nomination of General CORSE to the Collectorship of Interal Revenue in Chicago, and the probability that he would be confirmed, every distillery in that city has stopped. This shows how easy it would be for the President to stop the whisky frauds throughout the country if he would only nominate the right men to collect the taxes.

THE five-twenties are payable at the end of twenty years. A good while before that long period shall elapse, specie payments will be resumed, and that will settle the whole dispute as to whether those bonds shall be paid in money or currency. It is hardly worth while, in this hot weather, to get excited over an issue that few voters now living will survive long enough to see actually met.

THE Post complains that from the very outset of the Presidential canvass the Republicans have put the Democrats on the defensive, and are clearly resolved to persist in that policy. Well; the course of the Republicans is open to that criticism, but we do not see how their following it can be prevented. The Democrats, during the war and since, have made a record for themselves, out of which they cannot shirk, and they will be held to it.

MR. WILKES, of the Spirit of the Times, though he does not bet on horses, offers to bet on men. He says he will start with five thousand dollars that GRANT will beat SEYMOUR, and go higher if pressed. Some of the Democrats profess to be greatly shocked by this banter. They have a knack of being easily shocked when the tuck is taken out of them by the course of events, though eager enough to bet when they see a fair chance to win.

THE release, under the new internal tax-bill, of petroleum and its products from a specific excise, accomplishes an end for which the highly important interests concerned have been anxiously striving for many months. When Congress remitted this branch of manufacturing industry to a simple equality—of subjection to the public burthens, in common with other departments of production, it was barely an act of justice, and tardily performed at that. The merits of this question have been long since elucidated, and it remains only, therefore, to congratulate the trade upon this happy result of their organized and persistent agitation. The American producers and refiners of petroleum can now compete upon fairer terms with the foreign competition.

THE two Houses of Congress are rapidly closing up the public business. The new tax bill is in the President's hands and no Executive objections are anticipated. The funding bill will pass this week. The Electoral College bill, now in Mr. JOHNSON's hands, will be vetoed and repassed by Saturday or Monday. The regular appropriation bills have been nearly completed. It is believed that the only important matter still requiring legislative action is the formal declaration of the XIVth Amendment as a part of the Constitution. This will be proclaimed as soon as the official advices of ratification from the Southern States shall be received, and, until then, Congress will not adjourn. The session is, however, expected to close with the coming week.

THE MAYORALTY.

The card in another column, calling upon JARED M. BRUSH, Esq., of the Sixth ward, to permit the use of his name, for the Mayoralty, by the City Republican Convention soon to assemble, meets the wishes, as we understand them, of a very large number of citizens. Mr. BRUSH is very widely and favorably known as possessed of those personal qualities which ensure, not only his great popularity as a candidate, but the most efficient and faithful execution of the duties which pertain to the very responsible office of Mayor in this city. It is with more than ordinary pleasure, therefore, that we note this call from his Republican friends, and concur in their hope that he will assent to become a candidate.

GEN. GRANT'S RETICENCE.

The Democratic leaders are vexed because Gen. GRANT sticks to what he knows how to do well, and will not attempt that which neither his natural turn nor his training fit him for; in plain terms, that he will not try to make political speeches. There is no help for them; they will have to stay vexed.

An orator of the highest type does not appear in any nation oftener than once in a generation. He is ordinarily charming to hear, delightful to read, but good for no practical purpose under the sun.

The United States abounds in talkers; in men who "have the gift of the gab," and can seem to say a great deal more than they know. Most of them are altogether more ornamental than useful; but the ornament is so cheap it could more worthily be dispensed with than employed. The fact is there is too much public talking in all departments of activity among us; in Church and State, in the forum and at the bar; everywhere and on all occasions. A reduction of the amount, by at least one-half, would be an incalculable blessing.

What a man can do that needs to be done, is coming, however slowly, to be the test of genuine manhood. The men who to-day have chief control among the nations are not pre-eminent as speech-makers, but for their knowledge of practical affairs; for their capacity to classify facts so as to generalize the laws by which they are governed; and for the readiness with which they comprehend the characters and capabilities of different men, so as to drop them into the places in which they are adapted to be useful.

Not but some public speech-making is necessary, but there are so many talkers that a public man who will not din the ears of multitudes with gab is welcomed as a cordial to intellectual susceptibilities.

GRANT'S LAST CAMPAIGN.

That Gen. GRANT lost many men in the campaign by which he crushed the Rebellion is known of all men. Neither he nor his supporters have deemed a concealment of those losses wise or necessary. The figures are accurately given in the official reports.

The Democratic journals are endeavoring to prove from these figures either that Gen. GRANT was lacking in ability for the post he occupied or else was indifferent to human suffering. They are welcome, so far as we are concerned, to make all they can on either of these points.

Gen. GRANT grandly accomplished the mission on which he was sent. The government and the loyal people, while deploring the inevitable slaughter, were satisfied with the results achieved. War necessarily involves the destruction of life and property. The highest leadership consists in attaining proper results with the least possible loss. This Gen. GRANT did, and the award of his own country and the whole civilized world, is already on his head.

If Gen. MCCLELLAN had taken Richmond during the first year he commanded the army of the Potomac, incurring double the losses sustained afterwards under General GRANT, he would have wrought a marvellous saving of life and property. This he could have done, as well as not. But he was lacking both in the nerve and genius essential to the mighty undertaking. He protracted the war, year after year, entailing constant and long-continued losses, which amounted to vastly more in the aggregate than those endured in taking the rebel capital

If General GRANT, in the Wilderness, had fallen back upon the Potomac, as Gen. LEE and the Northern Democratic leaders desired, he would either have ensured the triumph of the rebellion or would have made the ultimate crushing of it vastly more costly of lives than it proved under his admirable system of tactics.

DEMOCRATIC DUPLICITY.

When the recent Democratic National Convention embedded in the opening paragraph of its Platform the promise to treat Slavery and Secession as settled and disposed of for all time by the course of events during the war, we felt an absolute consciousness that there was no sincerity in the profession, but that it was fraudulently made in the hope and expectation of so deceiving Conservative Republicans as to secure their votes. This may seem uncharitable, but we cannot resist the impression we express. The virus of hostility to Liberty and Equality has been so long in the veins of the Democratic party, and has been so effectually demonstrated, in times and ways without number, to be congenial there, that it would take much more than an artful pretense to convince us that it had been ejected, and that wholesomer sentiments and principles had taken its place.

If this declaration of the abandonment of mischievous ideas and purposes had been followed by the nomination of Mr. CHASE for President, the intended game of deception would have been continued; but the nomination of SEYMOUR and BLAIR has been received with so many incontestible tokens of repugnance and disgust by all men who were undoubtedly loyal during the war, or had previously espoused the doctrine that Liberty is a natural and inalienable right, that it has already been decided, by the leaders of Democratic opinion, to be useless to endeavor to maintain an appearance of concurrence in the promise given.

Hence, the Philadelphia Age leads off with the declaration that

"Every act by which the present Congress has sought to Africanize the Southern States is in impudent and avowed violation of the Constitution of the United States.

"These Radical malefactors are now for trial, before the people. The day is fixed. Each honest citizen, Democrat and Republican, will, by his vote, give his verdict. Shall it be to vindicate the Constitution and the laws, now and for all time, or to make them the safe jest and scoff of Thad. Stevens and his Radical crew, and all who may share their scorn of laws, and oaths, and pledges? This is the question that is now before the American people. It concerns their interest, for it involves the very existence of a constitutional government founded on law."

That does not sound at all like abiding by the settlement that has been made of the questions of Slavery and Secession. Be sure, the expressions employed are somewhat vague and indefinite; but every person who is familiar with the current of political discussions in this country for the last eight years, knows precisely what is meant. The Republicans are arraigned as malefactors for abolishing Slavery, and reorganizing the Southern States in accordance with that great fact; and for daring, in various other matters of prime importance, to coerce the seceding States. Take out these essential considerations, and the strong declarations of the Age become the idlest froth and foam conceivable.

So, too, the New York World declares that

"The Democratic party asserts, in its platform, and asks the country to pronounce, that the Reconstruction policy of Congress is in flagrant violation of the Constitution. We may be unable to replace the country in the same condition in which it would have been if this policy had not been carried into execution," &c.

The controlling idea here is to get the Southern States back into the Union in the precise condition they occupied before the rebellion. The nominal point of objection is the Reconstruction plan of Congress. But press the inquiry firmly, Why is that plan objected to? and the underlying feeling will speedily be brought to the surface; which is, that the Southern States violated no obligations by making war upon the Government, and are, therefore, liable to no penalties, but remain with all their original rights and powers intact, though held under military duress. This does not comport, in the least degree, with the declaration of the Platform that Slavery and Secession have been determined against the Southern leaders, and so determined as not to admit of readjustment.

The fact is, that Democrats like the enslavement of the black race, and would be glad to restore it if they could see their way clear to do so. They believe fully in the doctrine that the Union is nothing more than a partnership, from which each of the States has a right to withdraw unmolested at pleasure. The recantation of these heresies, made in the Platform, was induced by motives of policy operating upon the leaders of the Convention. It is not in harmony with the feeling prevalent among the masses of the party; and as there is no longer a probability of making it useful in decoying Republican recruits, it is abandoned and ignored.

STATE POLITICS.

The Republicans of Erie, McKean, Cameron, Clearfield, Forest, Jefferson and Warren counties have unanimously declared for the renomination of Mr. SCHOFIELD to Congress. Elk, the only other county in the district, has expressed a preference for Mr. HENRY SOUTHER.

Junius R. Clark of Warren county, Allender P. Duncan of Venango, Joseph Robison of Blair, H. G. Vankirk and A. G. Buffington of Washington; S. M. Jackson of Butler, George P. Rea and John D. Stranahan of Erie and J. Murray of Cambria are Republican candidates for Assembly.

The Democracy of Somerset county have made the following nominations: Congress, Hon. A. H. Coffroth (subject to the decision of the district conference.) Additional Law Judge, W. J. Baer, Esq. Assembly, Adam Wilson.

The Democratic nominees in Clarion county are: Congress, Col. James B. Knox; Senator, Hon. Wm. A. Wallace; Assembly, R. B. Brown, editor Democrat.

The Democratic nominee of Cambria for Assembly, is John Porter.

THE MAYORALTY.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The primary meetings for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor are announced for next month. We want a reliable and efficient man for the position. Such a man is JARED M. BRUSH, Esq., of the Sixth ward. If Mr. BRUSH will permit the use of his name it will be very acceptable to

MANY REPUBLICANS.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It is due to Thomas J. Keenan, chairman of the Democratic County Committee, that I should admit the truthfulness of his assertion that he called upon me and solicited me to attend a Democratic ratification meeting to be held at the "Battery." But I am somewhat astonished that he should presume to seriously use my name in ratification of either the nominees or principles of the so called Democratic party, and I can only excuse this blunder on the charitable supposition that the chairman of the Democratic Executive County Committee had been dining at the "Battery," and tarried long at the table.

I shall give my earnest support to Grant and Colfax, and this public declaration of the fact is demanded by the improper use of my name. JOSIAH COHEN.

VALLANDIGHAM says in his Dayton Ledger: "It is quite evident that there is a well founded indignation manifesting itself throughout Ohio against members of the Western delegation at New York, who faltered in their support of Pendleton in the face of the most positive instructions from their constituency. Both Indiana and Illinois coquetted in the start and finally proved false to their most honorable pledges. The Southern representatives, too, were not proof against our Eastern autocrats, though in times past they have ever been found wedded to principle. The defeat of Mr. Pendleton occasions great disappointment."

The Constitutional Amendment.

The Constitutional Amendment is now adopted by more than the requisite vote. We therefore print the amendment in full, as a matter of special interest at this time:

ARTICLE XIV.—SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for the President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection and rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations or claims shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

The Democratic Nomination.

There is much speculation regarding the attitude of the President and his Cabinet on the New York Democratic nominations, and numerous reports are in circulation (none of them well founded, however,) that a serious disaffection exists among Mr. Johnson's advisers toward the democratic candidates. There is no doubt, however, of the position of Mr. Seward and Gen. Schofield. They both support Gen. Grant. Secretary Seward will probably take no prominent part in the campaign, but his sympathies and countenance will be given to the Republican candidate. The same may be said only in a more positive degree of Mr. Evarts, the probable Attorney General. As to Mr. McCulloch's position, nothing further is positively known than that he utterly repudiates the financial part of the Democratic platform, and that he dislikes Seymour. Postmaster General Randall is reported to have declared for Grant and Colfax, but authorizes a denial of the report, and adds that he has not made up his mind to support either ticket. He states further, very significantly, that he cannot conscientiously support a repudiation platform, or any candidate with repudiation principles. Regarding the much-talked-of third party movement, he says that it would fail, inasmuch as it would result in throwing the election of President into the House, where there is no third party, and where Grant and Colfax are the unanimous choice. Other members of the Cabinet are understood to entertain similar views.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Times.

THE Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette telegraphed on the 10th: "The New York nominations continue to be the general theme of conversation, and Democratic Congressmen are just as free as they were yesterday in expressing their disgust at the selections made. They see that Seymour's copperhead record and Blair's bloody letter cannot be sustained, and the feeling about the latter is so strong that Senators Davis and Buckalew both publicly disavowed it in the debate in the Senate today, and declared that the Democratic party cannot be charged with its indorsement, even if it has nominated its writer for Vice President. One Democratic member of the House from Pennsylvania speaks of Blair as a d——d fool for writing it, and a greater d——d fool for printing it. Mr. Barnes, Democrat, from Brooklyn, telegraphed to a leading delegate in the Convention, yesterday, after the news of the nomination of Seymour was received, that the Republicans were jubilant and the Democrats depressed; that the matter ought to be reconsidered and Seymour made to decline. The leading Democrat in the Indiana delegation, when asked what he thought of the nominations, held up his hands in a deprecating manner and answered, "Hush, my friend, you are treading on a newly made grave." One of the Ohio Democrats, when asked a similar question, replied that the ticket could not carry a single State west of the Alleghenies, Mr. Seward remarked to a gentleman this morning that 'Gov. Seymour always had a good faculty for running behind his ticket.' The only thing with which the Democrats seemed pleased, is the slaughter of the Chief Justice. They chuckle over that a great deal, and make all sorts of pleasant remarks about his innocence and sympathy. Republicans speak of him as the deadest man, politically, now living, and Democrats suggest that the Republicans might give them a vote of thanks for laying him out."

HENRY WARD BEECHER having been charged by the New York World with preaching a political sermon in which he came out for Chase for the Presidency and against Grant, Mr. Beecher has published a letter denying the statement and stating that he has never been a Chase man. He says: "I have liked Grant from the first. Solid, unpretentious, straightforward, apt to succeed and not spoiled by success, wise in discerning men, skillful in using them, with the rare gift (which Washington had in an eminent degree) of wisdom in getting wisdom from other men's counsels. I confidently anticipate that, great as his military success has been, he will hereafter be known even more favorably for the wisdom of his civil administration.

"The seven-fold humiliations and recantations through which Chase was required to go for a democratic nomination, only to see the smiling Seymour looking benignly down upon his best estate, has no parallel except in the immortal history of Reineke Fuchs. There will be no third candidate between Grant and Seymour. It will be a fair fight between rugged honesty and plausible craft."

POLITICAL ITEMS.

"Wax-Works" Sloanaker is out for Grant and Colfax.

Anagram.—Ho! a Riot! O yes, Rum! "Horatio Seymour."

GOV. SEYMOUR is fifty-seven years of age. Frank Blair is forty-eight years of age.

Colonel Lester, an ex-Confederate officer of Georgia, has come out strong for Grant and Colfax.

Wm. G. Cockrill, a leading Democrat of Madison county, Tenn., has come out for Grant and Colfax.

A CINCINNATI paper suggests that the Republicans appoint a day of thanksgiving for a happy riddance of the Blair family.

GEN. JEFFRIES, the new Register of the Treasury, a great Johnson politician, announced himself for Grant a few days ago.

IT is said that Hon. H. G. Stebbins, formerly M. C. from New York, and Judge Pierrepont, one of the Sachems of Tammany, will soon declare for Grant.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE'S friends now declare that he never pledged himself to support the nominee of the Democratic Convention at New York, and that he will vote for Grant and Colfax.

THE New York Electoral ticket for Grant and Colfax includes the names of George W. Curtis, Moses H. Grinnell, Alexander T. Stewart, and George W. Demers, editor Albany Evening Journal.

R. J. WALKER is disgusted at the New York nomination and declares he will not support it. He sent over a printed draft of a platform which was ignored to an extent indicated by the above statement.

HON. JAS. HUGHES, of Indiana, one of the most eloquent of the Democratic orators, now practising law in Washington, will return to his State as soon as Congress adjourns, and take the stump for Grant and Colfax.

THE Boston Journal says: "A prominent member of the Democratic party said, last night: 'I have talked to over a hundred Democrats this afternoon and evening, and they all think as I do—that no honest man can vote for Seymour, and no white man for Frank Blair."

A COLUMBUS (Ohio) dispatch of the 14th says: "The old saying that rats leave a sinking ship was to-day verified by the stotement made by Gen. Joe Geiger that he had been invited to address a meeting at Philadelphia to ratify the New York nomination, but had promptly declined the supposed honor for the reason that he was desirous of being on the winning side."

The Jonesborough (Tenn.) Flag says that Mr, Ezra Mather, Mr, Isaac N. Babb, and Mr. John S. Mather, and many other citizens of that place, who have heretofore been acting with the Conservatives (so called) from honest and conscientious motives, have come out boldly and emphatically for Gen. Grant. So it is all over the country. The Forrest ticket is a pill that can never be swallowed by men who love their country as they should love it.

THE New York Journal of Commerce, a Democratic sheet, thus pitches into both the platform and Gov. Seymour:

"This is out-and-out repudiation of a solemn obligation, as we understand it, to pay all of the bonded debt in gold. On the question of repudiation the Democrats are boldly committed to the baser alternative, and will reach the main advantage where this heresy is foully cherished. There is no excuse for such a proposition. It is both wicked and disgraceful. The authors know very well that the money was borrowed with the express understanding that it was to be repaid in coin, and that anything short of this is repudiation of a solemn covenant. Gov. Seymour has always warmly insisted on the obligation to pay the bonds in gold. The platform is the very opposite of his well-known views. How the two are to be reconciled it is not for us to decide."

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

When the system is once affected it will not rally of its own accord; it needs help—it must be strengthened and invigorated; this is especially the case when the

KIDNEYS, BLADDER OR URINARY ORGANS

Are affected. For immediate relief and permanent cure,

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Are a perfectly safe and reliable specific. This well known remedy has effected a large number of speedy and remarkable cures, and have never failed to give relief when taken according to directions.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or calomel. They do not exhaust the system, but on the contrary they act as a tonic, imparting new tone and vigor to the organs and strengthening the whole body. These Pills have stood the test of thirty-five years, and are still gaining in popularity.

STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES.

Malaria, the most deadly enemy of health, is everywhere active in July and August. The blazing sun is decomposing and fermenting every species of vegetable and animal abomination, and poisonous gases that depress and infect the system are universally present. On the prairies, in the swamps, in the woods, and in the midst of crowded cities, this development of the elements of disease is now going on. In short the human body is in a state of siege, and reason and common sense suggest that its DEFENCES BE STRENGTHENED. A stimulant, a tonic, a corrective, and an alterative are required to put it in perfect trim, and these four grand requisites are combined in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. A man must be made of steel not to be affected by the morbid matter set afloat in the atmosphere by the rays of an almost vertical sun. Nine-tenths of the community are premonished at this season by debility, indisposition for exertion, nervousness, &c., that they need something to build them up and regulate their animal machinery. Do they want to "fight it out on that line all summer," or to achieve an immediate victory over their unpleasant symptoms, and secure that first of Heaven's blessings—"a sound mind in a sound body?" If the latter is their desire let them resort to the BITTERS without delay. That agreeable and potent vegetable regenerative will soon restore the system to its balance—regulating the diver, strengthening the stomach, gently relieving the bowels, and giving vigor, elasticity and energy to the whole frame. These are proven facts. No man who reads the testimony on which they are founded can for a moment doubt them.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

Colfax and Hereditary Loyalty.

Down at the old Virginia city of Alexandria I saw, not long ago, a faded flag of white silk, fringed, well worn with mold and rain, bearing an old-fashioned device of a soldier holding in one hand a fiery horse and with the other receiving from the genius of liberty, who sits besides the American eagle, a streamer bearing the motto, "Conquer or die!"

This was the original standard of the Life-Guard of General George Washington, commanded by Captain, afterward General, William Colfax, the grandfather of Schuyler Colfax, candidate for the Vice Presidency of the United States. The old man died in 1838, when the present Speaker of the House of Representatives was fifteen years old, and the latter's recollection of his distinguished ancester is vivid and enthusiastic.—G. A. T. Cleveland Leader.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, who has been talked about as likely hereafter to act with the Democratic party, openly and freely expresses his disgust with the platform of the New York Convention.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOUND.

That after repeated trials of other remedies, Roback's Stomach Bitters, Blood Purifier and Blood Pills are the best medicines extant to cure the diseases for which they are recommended.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

PILES.

There is no medicine in use so efficacous as Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Blood Pills for the permanent cure of Blind or Bleeding Piles; they strike at the root of disease, thereby removing the cause.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

TEMPERANCE.

There is, perhaps, no one thing that has done so much to promote the cause of temperance as that gentle stimulating tonic, Roback's Stomach Bitters; they strengthen and invigorate without producing the ill effects of alcoholic stimulants.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

LIVER PILLS

Are Pills that have a direct and powerful action o the liver, and relieve any inactivity or congeste state of that all important organ upon which depedds the whole process of digestion. The importance, then, of procuring a Pill that shall have such direct action without the ill effects of mercury, is manifest to every one; such Pills are Roback's Blood Pills; they are warranted purely vegetable, and can with certainty be relied upon, and are safe at all times.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

INDIGESTION

Is but another name for Dyspepsia, and the parent of many ills. Roback's Stomach Bitters taken in wine-glass-full doses, directly after each meal, will surely effect a permanent cure. Do not take our word for it, but try them.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

NIGHT MARE

Is one of the many diseases of which Dyspepsia is the parent. To effect a cure persons should avoid hearty food at night, and take a wine-glass-full of Roback's Stomach Bitters on retiring to bed.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

RENOVATE.

During the Spring months it is one of the regular household duties to renovate, and, in the multiplicity of other duties one's own self is, in a great measure, overlooked; thousands of valuable lives might be prolonged, and many doubtless saved from premature graves by thoroughly renovating the system with Dr. Roback's Blood Pills, Stomach Bitters and Blood Purifier.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

MELANCHOLY

Is one of the many disorders of the nervous system, arising from a low state of the constitutional health or severe prostration after long continued sickness, and requires invigorating remedies like Roback's Stomach Bitters to restore the nerves to their natural vitality.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

WHO SELLS THEM?

The Agents for the sale of ROBACK'S BLOOD PILLS, STOMACH BITTERS and BLOOD PURIFIER are all Druggists everywhere.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 16, 1868.

The steady rise of the gold premium is the natural consequence of the decline of our national securities in the European market, caused there by fear that this Government might repudiate or pay the bonds in greenbacks, and reduce the rate of interest. Imports still keep up to about five million dollars per week, whilst the total of exports does not exceed two millions in currency. Importers are eager buyers of gold, not only for present wants, but also to cover past contracts and for future use.

Government bonds were dull early in the day, but towards noon, the old bonds advanced with the rise in gold. Seven Thirties and 1865 Consols are the lowest of the entire list; there is, however, no investment demand from the interior.

The stock market was dull in the morning, but at the second board, the market rallied, and nearly all the Railroad shares advanced from one-half to one per cent. Express shares have declined. Business in general being dull, the receipts of these companies have fallen off considerably, whilst their expenses are as heavy as during any time of the war.

Mining shares are dull and lower. Border State bonds are higher and in demand; also, local shares of companies that pay regular dividends.

Columbia (oil) is inquired for at 23½ to 24, but little stock is in the market.

Money is easier, and business inactive.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 16, 1868.

CATTLE.

There has been a very fair business done in Cattle this week, and notwithstanding there was a very full supply, the market was firmer than last week, and prime shipping Cattle brought an advance. The offerings consisted mainly of stock steers, and this had a tendency to stiffen the market for fat cattle, of which there were but comparatively few on sale; there was, however, an improved demand for stock cattle, occasioned by the presence of several heavy stock buyers from Lancaster, and other counties in the eastern part of the State. Some of the best cattle on sale were cattle that had been bought some time ago when prices were much higher than those prevailing now, and the owners finding they were unable to get out even, shipped on further east. The sales were fully up to those of last week, in the aggregate, and, as we have already intimated, prices ruled higher. As will be seen by reference to sales, extra fat cattle sold at 7,75, 8 and 8,10. For stock cattle, prices ranged from 4½, 5½ and 5¾, and 6, according to quality and condition.

Hedges & Taylor sold 10 head prime fat cattle, for Calhoun to Moses & Co., weighing 11,475, at 7⅞; 18 for Barbour & Waring to Davison, weighing 19,300, at 6,75; 20 for same to same, at 4,75; 8 for Kirby to Musselman, weighing 7,925, at 6¼; 20 for same to same, weighing 21,800, at 6,50; 22 for same to same, at $50 per head; 38 for Thompson & Co. to Klemen, weighing 37,625, at 6,50—$10 off; 40 head for same to J. McCall, weighing 36,400, at 5,25.

Holmes, Lafferty & Glass sold 38 stockers for Doud to R. Black at 5,40; 24 same kind for Riddle to Deitrich at 5,25; 20 head same kind for Doud to Styer at 5,35; 4 for same to Plant at 5,25; 6 for Shields to Aull at 6; 58 head of fairish Iowa steers for Willey & Riddle to Voter at 6,50; 19 fair butchers stock for Holmes & Pfeffer to Fillman at 7c, delivered in Philadelphia; 7 for Doud to Jas. McClean to Moses & Co. 17 head of fairish cattle, weighing 19,500, at 6,50.

SHEEP.

Notwithstanding the arrivals of sheep were by no means large this week, the market was an exceedingly hard one, and eastern buyers refused to take hold unless concessions were made. The eastern markets are reported as having been excessively dull, and this caused eastern buyers to operate very timidly, and buy very sparingly, and therefore notwithstanding, the offerings, were if anything lighter than usual, prices, compared with last week, have still further declined. The bulk of the sales were made by the head, Philadelphia buyers alleging that the Philadelphia butchers refuse to buy by weight, unless for prime fat sheep. The best sale reported by weight was at 4,35, and that was made early in the week. By the head, sales ranged all the way from $1 to $3,50, according to quality, size and condition.

Hodges & Taylor, sold 100 for Vanfersen to Pidcock & Co. at $3 per head; 196 for Watts to Loyd at $2 per head; 114 for Malholm to Deitrich at $1,25; 208 for Keenan to Loyd at 4,35 per pound; 196 for Jones to Osterhaus, at $2,20 per head; 367 for Beeson to same buyer at $1,80; 194 head for Heffner to Deitrich at 3,46 per pound; 191 for Lindsay to Loyd at 3½.

Orr to Pratt 429 head at 3¼—or a profit of $30.

HOGS.

The hog market has ruled steady throughout the past week, under the influence of unusually light arrivals, though under the influence of a decline in the East, prices compared with last week; are a shade lower. We now quote New York hogs at 8½ to 9 and Philadelphia hogs at 950 to 10—last week prime Philadelphia hogs sold up to 10,25.

Balloon Ascension on the Fourth of July—A Thrilling and Perilous Adventure.

[From the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger, July 10.]

On Saturday evening last the Fair Grounds in this city were the scene of the most fearful and thrilling spectacle ever witnessed in this community. Messrs Redmond and Yard had advertised extensively that on that day one of them would make an ascension in their mammoth balloon from the amphitheatre of the Fair Grounds, and some six or seven persons inside, and perhaps twice as many on the outside, had assembled to witness the ascent. To understand the catastrophe that ensued, it is necessary to state that Messrs. Redmond and Yard inflated their balloon by means of heated air, instead of gas, as is more usual in such cases. To accomplish this they had constructed a furnace, the heat of which was conducted into the balloon by means of a barrel, which served as a chimney to the furnace, and over which the open end of the balloon was placed. It was so arranged that when the balloon should be inflated, a board top was to be placed over the barrel to shut off the heat. At four o'clock p. m. the balloon was fully inflated, and Mr. Yard stepped into the car, or basket, suspended by means of ropes from the balloon, and gave the order to shut off the heat, and cut the rope by which the balloon was held down. Unfortunately, Mr. Redmond gave the order, almost at the same instant, to fire up, and a quart or more of coal oil was thrown into the furnace, which blew off the top of the barrel, and the flame burned fiercely out through the barrel, and coming in contact with the balloon it was ignited on one side and at the end, and the balloon shot upward with the speed of a kite.

Some of the audience perceived the fire and gave the alarm instantly, but the balloon had attained an attitude of a hundred yards before Mr. Yard became fully aware of his perillous condition. At this time the intense excitement, commotion and horror of the audience begars discription. Women and children screamed in an agony of fear for the safety of Mr. Yard, and men looked on in speechless helplessness, in momentary expectation of seeing him hurled to certain death and destruction. Mr. Yard seems to have preserved his presence of mind in a remarkable degree. He supposes he attained an altitude of near three-fourths of a mile before the balloon began to descend. To test the rapidity of his descent, he threw out first his pocket handkerchief, and afterward his hat, by which he found that his descent was quite gradual, and he began to hope that if the air did not so far escape as to collapse the balloon, he might effect a safe landing. As he feared, however, the balloon partially collapsed and fell over, but by swaying the basket and pulling at the ropes, he managed to right her up again, but he found he was now descending with fearful rapidity. Fortunately he landed in a thicket of small oaks, east of M. Y. Duncan's, and his basket lodged on the yielding branches of those little trees, and thus his life was saved, and that, too, without the slightest injury to his person. We can imagine but faintly the grateful emotions of Mr. Yard at so happy a deliverance from so great a peril.

Old Folks.

A homestead without a pair of old folks—"Time's doting chronicles"—seated contentedly in the chimney corner, would hardly be a homestead at all. If they are in the picture, it is complete.

There you may find them, day in and day out, in all sorts of weather, steadfast to their places and to one another. When the eaves drip, in the middle of the winter forenoons, the old man with the head of silver, abandons his post and the last Saturday's newspaper to make the accustomed tour of the kitchen, offices, the sheds, or the barn, lingering by the way to throw down a handful of grain for the pinched poultry. With what minuteness he is cautioned by grandmother not to go out insufficiently clad; and with what a single-hearted joy she welcomes him when he comes back to her again! He would hardly get a warmer reception if he was just come home from a genuine polar expedition. And as soon as he has nestled down snugly in his cushioned chair once more, and dealt out on the glowing forestick a few vigorous raps with the tongs, he will launch forth into such voluble details of the keen air outdoors—suggesting Artic reminicences which no listner could very well call in question—as will find the white-haired old couple topic of earnest talk till dinner is brought on the table—From "Homespun," published by Hurd & Houghton.

A Ritualistic Mistake.

The Congregationalist says: In a pretty village near Boston, a love of a little Episcopal chapel having just been finished, a benevolent parishioner sent off to a "proper authority" in a very ecclesiastical city, an order for a new surplice of whitest, finest lawn, as a present to the church. The vestment arrived and so did the officiating minister, who, donning the delicate fabric, was a little mystified at some extra embroidery across the neckband, which, in his reverential mood, he deciphered as containing the letters "G. O. D." Just what might be the symbolism of this did not at once occur to him; but thinking that some enthusiastic antiquary had struck a fresh vein of apostolic decorative art, he went composedly through the service. Leaving the church with the benevolent parishioner aforesaid, this gentleman asked the clergyman if he noticed anything unusual about the surplice he had worn. "Yes," said the other "I noticed the name of the Supreme Being embroidered on the collar, and could not quite understand exactly what it was for." "Oh," rejoined the doror, "that was a blunder of the maker. I ordered him to mark the parcel, when he sent it, C. O. D. (cash on delivery), and the fool went and put these letters, which you see, on the robe itself.

Most Extraordinary Accident.

On Thursday of last week one of the most heart-rending accidents that we have been called upon to record, occurred at the Carbon Iron Works, at Parryville. The particulars are as follows: Some part of the cylinder in the large engine became loose, and the machinery was stopped in order to fasten it. A man named Henry Weltling got inside the cylinder and was working at the misplaced parts, when suddenly the engine started and the unfortunate man was crushed between the end of the cylinder and the head of the piston rod. The space between the parts in which he was crushed is only about two inches. The force was so powerful that the piston rod, which is four inches in diameter, was bent. This is only the second accident on record in which a man was crushed in the cylinder of an engine, and is the only fatal accident that has ever occurred at the Carbon Iron Works.

THE reduction of the tariff of charges for messages over the Atlantic cable has had a very beneficial effect npon the receipts. At the late meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company Mr. Cyrus W. Field stated that under the $125 rate the receipts were $3,525 per day; under the $50 rate they were $2,895, and under the $26 rate they were $3,465. He stated that the company was in position to do six times the amount of business it is now doing without adding a particle to the expense.

CLIPPINGS.

WE find in the "editorial correspondence" of the American Journal of Mining a capital confirmation of the truth that all trade unions are likely to become institutions for the benefit of poor workmen at the expense of the good ones. Mr. R. W. Raymond, the United States Mining Commissioner, writes to his journal from California that the present high rate of miners' wages is the greatest obstacle to extensive mining, not only, but the most decided difficulty in the way of individual advancement. The miners persistently oppose the cheap Chinese labor, and consequently many capable American and other experienced miners are laboring as common workmen, when, if the cheap labor were permitted to reduce the cost and extend the number of mines, they would advance to be foremen and captains. And so, uniting to keep wages up, they find themselves at the other end of the balance, constantly kept down. Time and the inevitable laws of trade will better their condition in spite of themselves however; for capital will seek and find cheap labor.

VILLEMESSANT says that every newspaper publisher should offer premiums for clubs and new subscribers, if for no other purpose at least to make everybody read the prospectus of the paper. He says he owes a great deal of his success as a newspaper man to the reflection which he always bestowed on the premium department of his papers. He says, one year, oranges were exceedingly scarce and dear in Paris. Hence, he caused a cargo of them to be bought for him in Bordeaux, had them brought to Paris by a special train, put in neat paper boxes holding a dozen each, and offered them then as premiums to whosoever would send in a year's subscription to the Figaro. He says he obtained in this manner about five thousand new subscribers, very few of whom would have thought of taking the paper but for the oranges.

THE reduction of the United States army, as proposed by Congress, it is stated, will interfere materially with military operations against the Indians in the department of the Pacific. Gen. Ord, commanding the Department of California, informs the Secretary of War that if the contemplated reduction takes place, no recruits can be sent to California to fill the vacancies already existing. He states that a large number of men will soon be discharged, some posts in Arizona and Nevada will be abandoned and others weakened; so it will be impossible to send expeditions against the hostile Indians, and the settlements and overland routes will be exposed to attack.

AS A young woman was walking alone one evening, a man looked at her and followed her. The young woman said, "Why do you follow me?" He answered, "Because I have fallen in love with you." The woman said, "Why are you in love with me? My sister is much handsomer; she is coming after me; go and make love to her." The man turned back and saw a woman with an ugly face. Being greatly displeased, he turned to the first woman and said, "Why did you tell me a falsehood?" The woman answered, "Neither did you speak the truth, for if you were really in love with me, why did you leave me to look up my sister?"

THE city of London has 3,000,000 of people and 360,000 houses, the average being about 8½ persons to a house, the same as in Philadelphia. On the other hand, the city of Paris has only 50,000 houses for 2,000,000 of inhabitants, an average of forty to a house. This curious comparison shows that, notwithstanding all the attractions and renown of Paris, its growth is surpassed by that of London, mainly because of the superior accommodations for living in the latter. New York has chosen to imitate the Parisian system, Piladelphia that of London. The average population per house in London and Philadelphia is about the same.

BRIGANDAGE in the Southern provinces of Italy is not only put down with a vigorous hand, but the sufferers from these lawless outrages are relieved by means of a charitable society established for that purpose. The accounts of the society for the year 1865, just published, shows that in that year about $280,000 were collected, and $124,000 were distributed in aid of the sufferers.

THE persecution of the Israelites in Roumania has ceased, in consequence of the energetic protests of the Government of Austria. The Vienna papers state that the difference between the two Governments on this question has been arranged peaceably, Roumania having yielded to all the demands of Austria.

ASPHALTUM, dissolved in benzine or petroleum, is recommended as a most excellent substance for marking boxes, casks, &c., as it makes a fine black, dries very quickly, and is not affected by water. It may also be used to advantage for coating iron, leather, etc., for protection against the weather.

GOLD placers, it is asserted, were worked in California five years before the discovery at Sutter's mill in 1848. A mine at San Francisquito, thirty-five miles from Los Angelos, was worked from 1842 to 1846 by Mexicans, who took out $6,000 to $8,000 yearly.

A MACHINE for breaking stones has been invented in Germany, in which they are carried around very rapidly on a disk, and then projected by their centrifugal force with such violence against a steel plate as to shiver them into fragments.

IN many parts of Germany "cement tiles" for covering roofs replace the old fashioned tiles to great advantage, both on the score of elegance and efficiency. They consist of hydraulic lime mixed with a certain amount of fine sand.

GOV. ANDREW, three days before his death, said: "The tendency of the hour is towards Grant; and that is best. Grant is so square and honest a man that I believe he is bound to be right anywhere."

MISCELLANEOUS.

640 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTCACE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of NEARLY NINE PER CENT.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adplied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Paved.—Mulberry alley, from Smith to Taylor street, Twelfth ward, has been paved with cobble stones.

Sunstruck.—Messrs. John Huckenstein and Harry Blair, of Allegheny, each lost a valuable horse on Monday by sunstroke.

On the Same Day.—The Democratic and Labor Reform County Conventions are called on the same day, Wednesday next, 22d inst.—P-h-e-w-shun.

The Insane Man.—The insane man who has been confined in the Alleghenv lock-up for several days past will be taken to the County Poor Farm to-day.

Passed Through.—Mrs. Abraham Lincoln passed through our city yesterday on her way Eastward. She was unaccompanied by a traveling companion.

The disgusting odor from the burning rubbish piles on the Commons opposite Webster street, in Allegheny, still continues to annoy the neighborhood.

Handle With Care.—Our readers should be careful in receiving any fifty cent notes, as quite a number of well executed counterfeits of that denomination have lately been put in circulation.

Alleged Attempt at Burglary.—Alexander Simpson made information yesterday against Jama Wilson alias Jama Manerly, charging her with breaking into his dwelling house with felonious intentions. A warrant was issued.

Another Sudden Death.—We learn that a coal miner employed at Tappen's coal work's, Beck's Run, died yesterday about one o'clock from the effects of the heat. We failed to learn the name of the man or any particulars connected with the case.

Indian Exercise.—A man residing in the Ninth ward, doubtless in imitation of the Indian who threw his tomahawk at an enemy, threw a hatchet at his wife on Monday afternoon. He was arrested by officer Wilmot, but refused to give his name and was locked up for a hearing.

Threatened Her.—Elizabeth McShane made information yesterday morning against her husband Patrick for surety of the peace. She alleges that he threatened to shoot her and burn the house down. The parties reside on Wood's Run. Alderman McMasters issued a warrant.

Very Dull.—Business was very dull at the Allegheny Mayor's office yesterday. We failed to learn of a single arrest during the day. It is seldom that our sister city can show as good a record for order. Perhaps the intense heat detained people from engaging in any of those difficulties in the law, which have a tendency to warm them up.

Alleged Larceny.—Alderman Taylor issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Alice Steel alias Humphries, charged with larceny by bailee, on oath of Peter Murray. Peter alleges that he put into Alice's possession a silver watch for safe keeping, and that when requested to return the article she refused to do so. It was valued at twenty dollars.

A Grant Club (of soldiers) in the Fifteenth ward of Cincinnati have adopted a uniform consisting of white caps and blue blouses, together with torches, one-fifth of which will bear the letter G, and the balance the remaining letters of Gen Grant's name, the members to march five abreast, so that the different letters of the name will be in proper order.

Queer Amusement.—John Cunningham and Robert Holmes alleged before Alderman Taylor yesterday that Annie M'Cutcheon, residing at Woods Run, amuses herself by throwing stones at them, and as they have both been struck several times with the flying missiles, they want a stop put to the proceedings. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Annie.

Larceny.—Adam Rahnkauf made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Robinson, a negro, with larceny. The prosecutor keeps a grocery at the corner of Gibbon and Magee streets, and he alleges that the accused came into the establishment and took therefrom $2,25 He was arrested, and after a hearing was, in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court, committed to jail.

Sent to Jail.—Mayor Blackmore yesterday committed Margaret McCarthy to jail for thirty days, for disorderly conduct. It will be remembered that this is the woman from Philadelphia who created the disturbance and was arrested at the Western Hotel on Wednesday morning. She was very loud in her denunciations of all Pittsburghers, and threatened vengeance dire upon any of them whom she might meet in Philadelphia.

Another Fatal Case.—John Cartin a laborer employed by Mr. Wainwright, of Lawrenceville, died yesterday from the effects of the heat, at the Fair Oaks Hotel, Lawrenceville. He had a slight sun stroke on Wednesday morning, from which he had recovered sufficient to go to work again yesterday morning, and about ten o'clock he had another attack, which resulted in his death. The Coroner will hold an inquest this morning.

Sunstruck.—John Kent, a workman at Haberman's coal tipple on the Monongahela river near Six Mile Ferry, was sunstruck yesterday morning at ten o'clock, while working at the tipple. He was removed to the house of his aunt, where he was lying, at last accounts, in a very critical condition, and but little hope was entertained of his recovery. His employers, it is stated, refused to send for a physician, and this neglect is creating considerable excitement in the neighborhood.

Election of Officers.—At a meeting of the Lorena Loan and Savings Association, of Allegheny city, held on the evening of the 15th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, B. F. Beatty; Vice President, James R. Fulton; Secretary, Wm. C. McKelvy; Treasurer, John A. Fairman. This is a new organization, and is well worthy the attention of parties of small means who are desirous of saving some of their earnings. Two hundred shares have already been subscribed.

Compromised.—Some days since we published an item stating that Anna Probst had made information before the Mayor charging Dr. Julius Reinhardt with obtaining money under false pretence. It appears that the Doctor obtained the sum of $900 from the deponent, and in a short time afterward left for Baltimore, but not with the intention of defrauding the lady out of her money. He yesterday returned to the city and settled the case by refunding the money and paying the costs. Officer Herron left the city for Baltimore in search of the Doctor only a few hours before his arrival here.

Anti-Tornado Bridge.—Mr. Jacob Geyser, of Allegheny city, whom we have known for many years as a skillful and ingenious pattern maker of all kinds of mill gear, &c., has invented a kind of bridge which is advertised in another column as "The Anti-Tornado Bridge." Mr. Geyser claims that the design is very simple and of such extraordinary strength that it will sustain the heaviest freight train of cars and resist the wildest tornado. If Mr. Geyser has made sure of these results his invention will prove of great public value and should at once be everywhere adopted, at least for all railroad bridges.

The "First Ward Battery"—Meeting of the "Unterrified."

A meeting of the men, women and children residing at and in the vicinity of the Point, was held at the "First Ward Battery," Penn street, last evening. The meeting was called to ratify the nominations made at the New York Convention, and for the purpose of giving Mr. A. W. Foster an opportunity to "speak his piece" again. The hour fixed for organizing the meeting was half-past seven o'clock, at which time our reporter repaired to the "Battery," the windows of which were brilliantly illuminated with three tallow "dips," and a sort of verandah erected in front as a platform for the speakers. Immediately on his arrival he received several invitations to "trate," all of which he respectfully declined. He was then accosted by an elderly gentleman with a "subscription paper" and requested to "give a quarther to pay for puttin up the stand for the spakers," not having any silver, and very little paper money, he was forced to decline this modest request also. Mr. Foster arrived on the ground early and immediately took his position in the second story of the battery in order to avoid the many modest invitations to "trate." The crowd, which numbered between two and three hundred, was composed principally of women and children, the latter being largely in the majority.

After waiting almost an hour for the gentleman whose name had been put down as Chairman, and for a band of music, which we learn refused to "put in an appearance until they were paid," the meeting was organized without either officers or music, and proceeded to business.

As Mr. Foster's "piece" was new, and of a character calculated to interest the intelligent children of that locality he was called upon the first, for fear some of the smaller ones might get sleepy and restless, and consequently lose the rich treat the old gentleman had labored so faithfully to prepare for them. He was introduced by the proprietor of the "battery" in person as there were no officers, and proceeded to spout. He has made a few slight alterations in his piece since he declaimed it at the "Battery" in the old Third ward a few evenings since. He omitted his "apology to the Irishmen," and inserted in lieu thereof a prediction that if Seymour and Blair were defeated that the country would go to ——, no matter where, for we presume he meant that portion known as Democracy. After he had got about half way through his "piece," a noise was heard in the distance, which created so much confusion among the juveniles that the speaker was compelled to take his seat and wait until the noise subsided. The cause of the confusion proved to be four men with brass horns and one with a big drum coming to ratify for the sum of two dollars and a half a piece, paid in advance, and beer included. After this apology for a band had ceased their noise and the proprietor of the battery, aided by several females, had succeeded in restoring quiet among the children, Mr. Foster proceeded to harangue the children with his financial theory, which was as clear as mud, especially to the audience he was addressing last night. The children could not appreciate it, however, and refused to join in the attempts that were made by the "battery man" to applaud the speaker. Finding that the crowd was growing "smaller by degrees and beautifully less," he left the financial question unfinished and took up the "nigger," of whom, it appears, he has a holy horror. In this he was more successful, and by a tremendous effort succeeded in raising a sickly cheer. He then attempted to give a biography of the different candidates, and in speaking of Blair said he was an abolitionist twenty years ago, and had never been anything else. This proved to be a bitter dose to the few men scattered among the crowd of women and children, and several of them were heard to exclaim, "I don't belave it." Seeing the mistake he had made, the speaker subsided, and as he retired the proprietor of the "battery" called on the children for three cheers for Seymour, to which they responded nobly.

The horns were then sounded, the drum pounded and somebody "trated" the crowd, after which the "batteryman" led a boy on the stage who made a regular school boy speech, which had a most disastrous effect upon the meeting, as the women went home taking the smaller children with them and the larger ones soon tired and followed their mammas, leaving the speaker "alone in his glory."

Base Ball Yesterday.

Notwithstanding the intense heat the lovers of our national game turned out to the number of about five hundred yesterday afternoon at Union Park to witness the second of the games between the Detroit and Allegheny Base Ball Clubs. Great interest was manifested in the result, as both parties went in confident of success and resolved to play hard for the victory. At half-past three o'clock Mr. Scott, of New Jersey, was chosen Umpire, and the game commenced with the Detroits at the bat. The contest lasted about three hours, resulting in a victory for the Allegheny Club, the score standing at the close of the ninth innings twenty-nine for the Allegheny and 18 for the Detroit. The Detroit boys seemed to be up to their business, and played remarkably well, but the Alleghenies, doubtless remembering their late defeat, used every exertion, playing from first to last as though bent on victory. We thought the Detroit slackened a little in the vigor of their play about the sixth inning, or otherwise the result might have been different. They are very good players in fielding, but at the bat the Alleghenies are rather their superiors. Frequently during the game the large concourse of spectators manifested the interest they took in the affair by clapping of hands and cheering as some active player developed his skill in taking a ball on the fly or making the run home. Altogether the contest was one of the most interesting and exciting that ever took place here.

The members of the Detroit will leave for home to-morrow in the six a. m. train. Although beaten in the game, yet by their urbanity and gentlemanly deportment while here they have won the esteem of all with whom they came in contact, and bear away with them the hearty good wishes of those whose guests they were.

The Allegheny Light Guards or Allegheny Zouaves.

In yesterday's GAZETTE appeared a card over the signature of "J. C. Martin, Captain," relating to the military organization known as the "Allegheny Light Guards," to which we have received a reply from "members," contradicting the statement of Captain M. We must decline publishing the reply; but fairness requires that we should make some reference to it. The difficulty, or dispute, seems to be in regard to the first organization, Capt. M. claiming to act, or exercise authority, by virtue thereof, while "members" contend the organization was not complete, and has not been recognized by the State authorities. The "members" say that the recent movement is for the purpose of "putting things through," all previous action to be ignored, particularly as to the selection of commanding officer, and they also propose to change the name of the organization to "Allegheny Zouaves," the desire for a change resulting from (as is stated) delay and non-action, no progress having been made after the lapse of a year. We see no necessity for a newspaper controversy, or for indulgence in personalities, since the members of the company have the power to settle all disputes by carrying out their wishes. The first organization (whether complete or not) not proving satisfactory, for the sake of harmony and the success of the organization, Capt. Martin should (and we doubt not will) submit gracefully to the will of the majority.

Immanuel Protestant Episcopal Church—Laying of the Corner Stone.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the Immanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, took place yesterday at five o'clock p. m. The site of the proposed building is on the corner of Washington and Market streets, near the lower end of the Manchester Passenger Railway. The structure, the plan of which was prepared by Rev. W. P. Ten Broeck, of the St. Johns Episcopal Church. Lawrenceville, occupying a space of of ground about fifty feet long by thirty feet wide, will be finished in a plain, but neat, and substantial manner. It will be completed in about two months, and will then form a nucleus for a parish in that part of the Diocese. At present the affair is in the hands of the efficient Missionary, Rev. Mr. Fuller, who was the originator of it, and who will continue to watch over its interests until some more definite arrangement can be made. The ceremony yesterday afternoon was of a very interesting character. Quite a number of the clergy and laity of the Diocese, assembled at the house of Mr. James A. Hutchison, a short distance from the church, and, headed by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, marched in procession to the ground. On arriving there the Bishop proceeded with the beautiful and impressive ceremony as laid down in the Ritual.

The box which was placed in the corner stone contained the following articles: A copy of the Holy Scriptures, a copy of the Book of Prayer, a manuscript history of the origin and progress of the Church and Sunday School, a copy of the Protestant Episcopal Convention held at Erie, the American Protestant Episcopal Churchman for the month of July, 1868, the Protestant Episcopal Almanac for the year 1868, a copy of the Spirit of Missions, one copy each of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, Dispatch, Commercial, Post and GAZETTE.

At the conclusion of this part of the exercises Rev. W. P. TenBroeck made a few remarks to the people on their duties regarding the church, which was followed by a brief but very appropriate address from the Bishop on the meaning of the ceremony which they had just gone through with.

Rev. Mr. Fuller next read a paper on the origin and progress of the enterprise, from which we learn that it was started in the month of October, 1867, services being at first held in Henry's Hall. After meeting there a few months the reading room of the Young Men's Christian Association was procured and the services changed to that place. The church at present has a membership of seventy-four, and is steadily increasing. A flourishing Sabbath school of one hundred and fifty scholars is connected with it under the direction of Miss Hutchison, by whom it was first organized.

The paper closed with commending the organization and its interests to the people, and praying for a continuance of divine favor.

After the reading of the document the Assembly joined in chanting the Gloria in Excelsis.

The Bishop fervently supplicated a Throne of Grace for the continued prosperity of the enterprise, after which the exercises were closed with the benediction.

The Insane Man.

We have received the following communication relative to the insane man in the Allegheny lock-up, which explains itself:

MESSRS. EDITORS: In your issue of July 16th you have an article headed "Man's Inhumanity &c.," in which you state that an insane man was found running at large in Allegheny and was very properly arrested by one of the Mayor's police and confined in the lock-up. That is not the fact in relation to the man that you had reference to in your article. That man, unknown, was brought in a wagon to the Mayor's office by Captain Rodgers, who lives four or five miles out in the country. It is true that on Saturday or Sunday officer Shaffer, of the Mayor's police, arrested an insane man, named Victor Greene, who has for several months been living among his friends, and sometimes he would be sent to jail for a few days. They were both in the lock-up. On Sunday evening I called at the Mayor's office and he related, as far as he knew, the facts of their different cases. I immediately gave a permit to receive Victor Greene into the City Home, with instructions to have him sent on Monday morning.

In relation to the man brought in by Captain Rodgers I told the Mayor that R. H. Davis would look after him, and that he would be in the city at eight o'clock A. M. on Monday. If Mr. Davis had been sick or absent from the city on business my action in the case would have been different.

M. MCGONNIGLE,
Secretary.

Life Insurance.

The business of life insurance, which until within a few years past has been comparatively new in this country, is rapidly gaining ground and favor with the public, and is now looked upon as one of the safest and most profitable investments a man can make, who desires to make a permanent provision for his family. Of the several companies represented in this city, we desire to call attention to the "Guardian Mutual Life Insurance Company," of which J. Bates McMullin is general agent for Western Pennsylvania. This Company claims advantages over its competitors in its non-forfeitable principles. In case an insured party should, after paying two annual premiums, become unable to continue payment, the policy will not be forfeited, but a paid-up policy will be issued for an equitable amount, as specified in the explanation of the tables of rates.

The agent, Mr. McMullin, is a courteous gentleman, and will take pleasure in explaining the advantages of his Company over others to all who may favor him with a call at his office, Room No. 2, Bank of Commerce Building, corner of Sixth and Wood street.

A Bold Thief.

On Wednesday evening an attempt at robbery was made on the St. Clair Street Bridge, which, in boldness and impudence, has seldom been surpassed. About dusk two gentlemen were riding towards Pittsburgh in a light spring wagon, in the rear end of which was a large trunk and a good sized valise. When about opposite the second pier from the Allegheny side a man who had been walking behind the vehicle from its entrance on the bridge, stepped up and lifting out the valise, coolly walked away in the opposite direction. The gentlemen rode on some distance farther, not being aware of the loss until a pedestrian, who had noticed the operation, called their attention to it and pointed out the retreating thief. An alarm was immediately given, and several persons started after the chap, who finding himself thus closely pressed, dropped the stolen article and made off at a rapid rate, succeeding in making his escape. Taken altogether, this was one of the boldest thieving operations we have recorded for some time.

A petition for adjudication in bankruptcy was filed by John P. Brush, of Mercer county.

Fatal Results of the Hot Weather—Coroner's Inquests.

The weather during the present week has been unusually hot and sultry, and the mercury has reached a point several degrees higher than it has attained for several years past. Wednesday, which was perhaps the hottest day of the season in this locality, the thermometer indicated one hundred and three degrees in the shade at half-past twelve o'clock and the mercury remained at that point until after three P. M. The result of this extreme hot weather was fatal in quite a number of instances in this county. Coroner Clawson yesterday held four inquests on the body of persons who died from the effects of the heat and quite a number of cases of coup de soliel occurred during the day, which did not prove fatal. The fatal cases, in addition to those published yesterday, are as follows:

James Meagher, a workman at Jones and Laughlin's mills, on the Frankstown road, went to his boarding house, Wednesday evening, before supper, and complaining of being fatigued, retired to bed. About half past six o'clock, supper being ready, a person was sent to his room to call him. Meagher, however, had grown worse and was unable to descend to the room below stairs. Later in the evening he died. Deceased was a young man and had been at work on the premises but three days. He was married and leaves a wife and one child at Johnstown.

Frederick Sauer, employed on the farm of John Haudenschild, on the Washington Pike, was stricken down about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while working in the field. The deceased was fifty-eight years of age. He was formerly a resident of Philadelphia, but more recently resided at Fairfield, Ohio, and was a butcher by occupation. He had been working at Haudenschild's some two or three weeks.

Wm. Evans, who worked for Mr. A. P. Cones, at Neville Island, died Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock. Deceased was at work with another man hoeing potatoes, and complained of not feeling well, saying he would go home. He started for the house, but before he was out of the field he fell to the ground and was taken under a shade tree. Dr. Courtin was sent for, but before he arrived the unfortunate man died. Deceased was about fifty years of age, and had no relatives in this part of the country. He has two children residing in England.

Lawrence Dowers died suddenly at his residence on Morton street, Twelfth ward, an account of which we published yesterday.

The jury in all the above cases returned verdicts of "death from coup de soliel."

The weather was not so intensely hot yesterday as the day previous, the mercury having fallen to 93, ten degrees lower than it was at 12 o'clock M. Wednesday. There were several cases of exhaustion from heat reported in the city during the day, but none of them proved fatal so far as we were able to learn.

MORTGAGES FILED.

Same day twenty-five mortgages were filed of record.

Alleged Larceny.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Mary Woods, residing on Jail alley, near Liberty street, made information charging a lodging-house keeper on Wood street with the larceny of a trunk. It appears that the trunk was stolen some four weeks since, and nothing was heard of it until yesterday morning, when she ascertained that it was at the boarding house referred to. The trunk, when stolen, contained a quantity of female wearing apparel, jewelry and trinkets. A search warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Gumbert, who found the trunk and had it conveyed to the Mayor's office; but when it was opened there was nothing of value in it. The proprietor of the house stated that the trunk was left in his care some weeks since by a man supposed to have been Joe Bowman. A warrant for the arrest of the suspected parties was issued.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

THE Philadelphia Ledger (neutral) says the Democratic platform "is a discreditable assault on the integrity and good faith of the nation."

THE New York Journal of Commerce, Democratic organ of the dignity school, says the Democratic platform is an out-and-out repudiation of the solemn promises of the Government.

ADMIRAL SEMMES has been making a speech in support of Seymour and Blair. We wonder if he expects, in case they should be elected, to be appointed Minister to England. He would be just the man to settle the Alabama claims.

BEFORE the war Seymour denounced the efforts to save the country. During the war he anathematized the men who were trying to save the nation, and caressed those who were in the interest of traitors. Since the war he has done nothing but whine over its cost.

OF FRANK P. BLAIR, the Democratic nominee for Vice President, the Boston Advertiser says:

In character he is supremely selfish, vindictive toward friends whom he has deserted, afflicted with a morbid passion for notoriety, and reckless to the last degree in his associations and his personal habits.

AN indignant New York Democrat writes to a friend in Boston: "The Democratic Convention to-day, in imitation of John Phœnix, who disarmed his adversary by planting his nose in his opponent's mouth and advancing his stomach suddenly and violently against his adversary's fist, have elected U. S. Grant to the Presidency. They have my heart curses."

JOHN A. GREEN, of Syracuse, one of Seymour's most active and influential friends in 1863, remarked, in a speech in opposition to the draft then pending, as follows:

Ye devils incarnate, (the Government of the United States) who, with hearts of adamant and tearless eye, drag hundreds of thousands to your slaughter pens, and demand the extermination of millions more of the very brothers of your blood—tremble!

THE Baltimore Sun says: "It is stated that Mr. Chase did not, in any of his letters and telegrams sent to New York during the Convention, give the assurance that he would support the party in its nominee, in the event of himself not being selected. It is now said here, by the friends of Mr. Chase, that he will take no part in the contest—will probably not even vote; but if he should, will cast his ballot for Grant and Colfax.

IT is now stated that Gen. Blair burned the residence of Gen. Wade Hampton in South Carolina. We forget which of the rebel officers burned Gen. Blair's residence near Washington. Now Hampton supports Blair for Vice President, and Blair echoes Hampton's policy of reviving the rebellion on the question of colored suffrage.

I saw two clouds at morning
Tinged with the rising sun:
And in the dawn they floated on
And mingled into one.

AMONG many significant incidents of the late convention, there was one occurrance which forcibly impressed us. We have not seen it noticed elsewhere. When the repudiation plank in the platform was read, it met with a strange, wild burst of vociferous applause. A quiet looking man writing at a reporter's table near us—a correspondent of a Western paper, as we afterward ascertained—half rose from his work, struck the table with involuntary emphasis, and uttered the startling exclamation, "By G—, the rebel yell!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press telegraphs: "The defection of the Johnsonites to the Democratic party since the New York Convention has been marked indeed, but is reaching its flood tide now. Among the latest of the many prominent men of this class who have given in their adherence to Grant and Colfax is Hon. Martin F. Conway, formerly a member of the House from Kansas, and now United States Consul at Marseilles. He will probably take the stump for the Republican ticket."

THE New York Herald says very truly: So far as the State of New York is concerned we have no doubt that her fifty thousand majority cast last year for the Democratic ticket will be entirely wiped out next November, and that the State will go about the same number the other way. It is possible that in the several Congressional districts where sound Conservative men are nominated the vote may be cast against the Radicals; but there can be no question that the people will show at the ballot box that they have not forgotten the lessons of the war.

GRANT'S MODESTY.—General Grant visited Ripley, Ohio, last week. The Bee says: "Our citizens were struck with the extreme modesty of General Grant while he was with us on last Friday. Not once did he allude to the fact of his being a candidate for the Presidency, and whenever the subject was mentioned he would invariably so frame his remarks that no one acquainted would ever have dreamed that he was a candidate for that position. If the country had to depend on the General to tell them that he was the standard bearer of the Republican party, it would remain in utter ignorance for a long time."

A DEMOCRATIC paper makes the following allusion to John Wilkes Booth, which we re-print for the purpose of showing the spirit that already actuates Copperhead leaders:

"Some few years after these stirring events, John Wilkes Booth, a young man of generous impulses, fine attainments, manly sentiments, and noble aspirations, 'whose gentle manners won your heart,' stung to the quick by the sight of his country's wrongs and injuries, conceived the bold idea of freeing that country from the iron rule, and, in obedience to the promptings of a patriotic heart, shot the foul usurper dead."

GOVERNOR ANDREW related to a citizen of Boston, just before his death, the following, which must make a deep impression upon all who read it: "I was in Washington just before Mr. Chase was nominated as Chief Justice, and, at Mr. Lincoln's request, called at the White House. 'Here I am,' said Mr. Lincoln, 'surrounded by documents relating to the vacancy on the Supreme Bench, and requests to appoint Mr. Chase. Mr. Chase is a man of ability; as a public officer, of marked fidelity; as a politician, ambitious; on the subject of the Presidency, a little insane. He has said things of me which has sent discord where there should be harmony, but a man in my position should not harbor resentment, and I shall appoint him.'"

GEN. TOM EWING'S friends are complaining bitterly of a trick played by Montgomery Blair to defeat the nomination of Ewing and secure the election of Frank. It appears that when Ewing was in command of Missouri and Kansas, the range of counties of the former State bordering on the latter was overrun by citizen guerillas; and after trying in vain to discover them, he issued an order, known as Order No. 11, directing the vacating of that whole tier of counties by all inhabitants. Ewing's friends claim that Blair prepared himself with a copy of this order, and when General Ewing's name was mentioned showed them around among the Southern delegates, asking if they could vote for such a man as that order proved Ewing to be.

"Onward, right onward,
Into the valley of death,
Rode the Six Hundred."

But larger, by hundreds multiplied by millions, than the doomed band who rode to swift destruction, in Tennyson's poem is the great cavalcade of unhappy men who are rushing to untimely graves, followed by the gaunt spectre Dyspepsia. This is all wrong, and should cease. Plantation Bitters, the great Stomachic Pain Killer, cures Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Headache, Vertigo, Dullness, and all symptoms of a kindred character, as if by magic. For Languor, Lassitude, Great Weakness and Mental Depression, they have a most wonderful effect.
